TRUE FRIENDS.

'Tis not when sunbeams brightly shine
And cloudless skies look blue;
When happiness and peace abound,
And troubles are but few;
'Tis not the time to know our friends—
The false ones from the true.

But when the sky is overcast,
And threatening clouds appear;
With thunder crushing o'er our heads,
And lighting flashing near;
The enemies press closely on,
To fill our hearts with fear.

'Tis then, when sadness clouds the brow,
And all around seems drear;
The false ones from our side will sneak—
The coming storm they fear.
Their craven hearts with terror view
The tempest drawing near.

And so, amid the darkest storm,
True friendship's love is tried;
As clings the ivy 'round the oak,
By us they will abide;
And neither storm nor enemies
Can force them from our side.

And when the storm is passed away,
The sky again is blue;
Then calmly we look around with pride,
To find our foes so few,
And think 'twas worth the storm to know
Our false friends from our true.

A GREAT TRANSFORMATION.

HOW THE NEGROES LEGISLATE IN SOUTH CAROLINA—FIFTEEN BLACKS IN THE STATE SENATE—PARLIAMENTARY TACTICS—THE PERSONNEL OF THE HOUSE—THE ABLEST DISPUTANT AND PARLIAMENTARY LEADER.

Here the slave is now the master; the bondman is the lawgiver. Here has been fulfilled that singular prophecy ventured by Jefferson soon after his retirement from the Presidency. Speaking of the crime of slavery, he said, "that considering numbers, native and natural means only, a revolution of the wheel of fortune, an exchange of situation, is among possible events, and it may become probable by supernatural interference! The Almighty has no attribute which can take side with us in such a contest."

I walked leisurely along the broad streets of Columbia to the imposing, but still unfinished Capitol of South Carolina. The softest breezes of Northern spring-time greeted me, and the beautiful magnolia, mock-orange, firs and other evergreens seemed to proclaim perpetual summer."—The streets are crowded with motley groups of whites and blacks, and on the modest elevation that fixes the centre of the main avenue stands the point of attraction—the Capitol with the Legislature in session. I entered the vast rotunda, and passed on to the Legislative halls, to witness the deliberations of the novel Legislature of reconstructed South Carolina.

The Senate Hall, designed to echo the eloquence of the Hamptons, the Rhetts, the Hammonds, and other distinguished sons of chivalry, has been fitted up in modest elegance, and eighteen whites and fifteen negroes fill its chairs. As a body, it is but little below some Northern Senates I have seen, in point of intelligence, and among its members are able men of both races. Mr. Corbins, the President, is a very able lawyer and debator, and perhaps the commanding intellect of all the contributions from the North to the statesmanship of South Carolina. He is well appreciated, too, as he is Senator, U. S. District Attorney, and codifier of the laws, and fills all with credit. Senator Jilson, another son of New England, is a gentleman of culture, and is State Commissioner of Education, as well as legislator. Senator Leslie is an ex-New York Democrat and ex-Democratic legislator from Brooklyn. He is now a Republican Senator and State Land Commissioner. These doubly or trebly honored gentlemen are not singular, however.—There was a lack of white material when the wheels of government were put in motion, and it became an agreeable necessity for a number to accept multiplied offices. Mr. Moses, Speaker of the House, is Adjutant-General, and Mr. Nagle, Comptroller-General; Mr. Tomlinson, Auditor-General; Mr. Elliott, Assistant Adjutant General, and Mr. Stolbrand, Superintendent of the Penitentiary, are all commissioned State officers and members of the House.

THE MOST NOTABLE NEGRO

in the Legislature is Senator Wright. He is a full blooded negro, of medium size, with a finely chiseled face, and a handsomely developed head. He came here with the certificate and seal of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, as an attorney-at-law. His features and form are fairly Caucasian in all save color, and he speaks fluently and forcibly. He is eminent for his integrity, and devotes himself intelligently and earnestly to the advancement of his race and State. On the right of the Chamber sits a tall, gaunt, full-blooded negro, black as midnight, with the regular Southern negro dialect, and the awkward gait of a field-hand. He is Senator Nash, the representative of the Capitol District, and the successor to Wade Hampton. He is quite intelligent, although entirely uneducated, and was in olden times, the best hotel porter in Columbia. Senator Cain sits near the centre Isle, and boasts of no discount on his African blood. He is a tolerable debater, and an ardent preacher of the Methodist persuasion. A little in front of him sits Senator Swails, a light quadroon, and a hasty graduate of the country free-schools of the Cumberland Valley. He is doubtless remembered by many of the citizens of Chambersburg. He writes a beautiful hand, and speaks quite intelligently.

The hour of noon is indicated by the plain mahogany circular clock above the door, and the Senate is called to order. A very plain, jet-black, white-chokered man stepped up on the Speaker's stand, and called the Senators to their devotions. A more simple, beautiful and appropriate prayer I have never heard than Chaplain Adams for his dubious flock and strickened Commonwealth. Routined legislation followed, and I turned to take a look at the popular branch of the Legislature. It sits in the spacious Library room of the new Capitol, temporarily appropriated to the purpose, and a large gallery is usually crowded with negroes, watching with intense interest the maiden efforts of their representative brethren as law-makers.—Speaker Moses is in the chair, and he presides with great dignity and ability.—He is an Israelite, and an enthusiast.—From an extreme rebel he has transformed himself into an extreme Republican. As a staff officer of Gov. Pickens, he was accorded the honor of hoisting the Confederate flag over Fort Sumter when Anderson surrendered, and now he presides over the first Republican Legislature. His father was a rebel commissioner to persuade North Carolina to join in secession, and now he administers the Republican laws, in hearty sympathy as Chief Justice of the State.

The Speaker vacated the chair, and a stout, finely-formed negro took his place and presided very gracefully. He is Mr. Whipper, of Charleston, a Michigan waif, that came with the war and lodged when the army was disbanded. His face is round, full, and well drawn. If covered with a white skin and flaxen hair, his features would be called more than ordinarily good. He is the Patrick Henry of the House as an orator; but his want of culture mars the beauty of his sentences. He is a lawyer, and aspires to the vacant seat on the Supreme Bench, as does Senator Wright. Mr. Elliott, a Massachusetts negro of full blood, is pherhaps on the colored side of the House. I saw him lead in a desperate struggle of two days, in support of a bill that was fought desperately by filibustering, and he managed it with great skill until he covered his efforts with success. Captain Small, the hero of the "Planter" during the war, is also a member. He is a stout, burly mulatto, and his face indicates considerable intelligence and great decision of purpose.—Purvis is a neat, slender mulatto, and hails from Philadelphia, where his father is well known as one of the most successful financial princes of his race. The son is the negro Beau Brummel of the House—dresses very tastefully, and parts his soft waving hair in the middle. He is an active and influential member, and speaks well. De Large is a dumpy little quadroon, a fluent but not very forcible talker, and has a passion for the floor. He was a steward in the rebel navy during the war. Cook, of Greenville, is a very genteel mulatto, and a quiet but efficient member. He is the son of his former master, and long struggled to free himself from bondage. He saved fifteen hundred dollars, by six-pences and shillings earned after labor hours, and offered it in vain for his liberty. Finally rebellion brought emancipation, and his savings gave him a comfortable home.

The House is nearly two-thirds negroes, who were once slaves, and every possible shade is to be found. There are half a dozen members who would readily pass for pure whites, but they were South Carolina slaves only a few years ago. Mr. Tomlinson, a Philadelphia Quaker, and an offshoot of the Bureau, is the ablest white man on the floor, and one of the most vigilant and faithful members in either branch. Close to him sit Gen. Dennis and Mr. Jenks, two of the able political leaders of the House. In the front row is the patriarch of the Legislature—an old native white preacher, his head bleached by the frosts of more than seventy winters. On each side of the Speaker sits a bright mulatto clerk, and close by is Mr. Etter, the reporter. In the gallery sits the first negro in South Carolina, with his sprightly quadroon wife by his side. Mr. Cardozo, the Secretary of State, is a robust full faced mulatto, and everything about him indicates the highest culture. His father and master was an officer of the customs in Charleston, and gave him a complete education in Scotland. He was regularly ordained as a minister, and was pastor of a New England congregation for some years before the war. Gen. Howard has urged him to accept a professorship in the Lincoln University, but he wisely prefers to serve his long oppressed race in South Carolina. He is highly respected by all classes, and exerts a most salutary influence in all matters pertaining to the interests of the blacks. If he desired to fill the Executive chair of his State, or a seat in Congress, either would be conceded to him without a serious struggle; but for the present he is content to continue as Secretary of State. It is not improbable, however, that on the 4th of March, 1871, Mr. Cardozo, once the slave of South Carolina, may appear at the bar of the United States Senate to qualify as the representative of the chivalry in the first legislative tribunal of the nation.

A. K. McCLURE.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 12, 1870.

NOT SO NOW.—Many years ago, when Judge Robbert M. Charlton, of Savannah, Georgia was quite a young man, he, in company with his father, Hon. T. U. P. Charlton spent every summer in the delightful little village of Clarksville, Northeast Georgia.

One day Robert was passing along the street in Clarksville, and it happened to be election day, (Members of Congress were then elected by what was called the general ticket system and not by districts as they now are,) when he was met by a verdant Democrat of the mountains, who accosted him thus:

"Mr. Charlton, are you the man that is running for Congress?"

"No, sir! I am no candidate—my father is, however. But may I ask why this inquiry?"

"Nothing, only I haven't voted yit."

"If it is consistent with your feelings I would like it, if you would vote for my father."

"I would just as soon vote for him as anybody."

Mr. C. thanked him, and thinking, perhaps, his friend was seeking a treat, invited him into a neighboring bar-room.

"What will you take?"

"I never drink anything, but I see they have some ginger cakes. I would as lief take one of them with you as not."

"Very well. Give us a cake."

"My brother is in town with me."

"All right, take him a cake with my respects." Another cake was purchased and paid for, and the two friends parted—"Greely" to find his brother, and Mr. C. to join in the mercy dance with his young friends in a parlor hard by. "The golden hours on angel's wings" passed rapidly away with Mr. Charlton. His friend was soon forgotten late in the afternoon, when there was a pause in the dance, our verdant friend very much to the surprise of every one, stalked into the parlor, inquring for Mr. C. Of course all eyes were directed to our friend as he approached Mr. C. drawing from his bosom a four by six inch cake, he said: "Mr. Charlton here's your cake.—My brother had voted afore I seed him."

Mr. C's embarrassment was not greater than his admiration of the fellow's honesty.

NEW YORK TRAGEDY.—Early on Saturday evening a well-known thief and desperado, named John Reynolds, in a half intoxicated condition entered the grocery of William Townsend, Hudson street, New York, and said he would remain there that night. Townsend said he could not, and after some words proceeded to put him out, when Reynolds drew a long shoe knife, which he had stolen from a neighboring shop only a few minutes before, and stabbed him twice, the blade entering through the lower ventricle of the heart the second time, causing almost instant death. A little daughter gave the alarm, and two officers hurried to the place and took the assassin into custody, after a desperate struggle on his part, and took him to the station house, followed by an excited crowd, who loudly threatened to seize the prisoner and hang him to the nearest lamp-post. The prisoner gave his age as 22 years, said he was a thief by occupation, and had no residence.

THE GOLD CONSPIRACY.

The "Black Friday" of September—Revelations of Fisk and Gould.

It is pretty generally known that a committee of investigation are now examining witnesses as to what is popularly termed the "Gold Conspiracy" at New York, in September last, when the currency price of gold was rapidly advanced from about 135 to 165, to the great prejudice of legitimate business and to the scandal of the Government. Whether the committee will be able to draw out enough of tangible facts in this business to apply an efficient correction in the future, it is perhaps, too soon to venture a prediction; but it is certain that it has uncovered, in the testimony of Mr. James Fisk, Jr., as the same has been rendered and given to the public by Washington correspondents, material for a huge volume of fun scarcely surpassed by anything in English literature. It is native, audacious, and probably truthful; at any rate, it gives a connected and logical explanation of the Wall street doings in gold that culminated on that fatal "black Friday" in September last. It is well known that Gould, Fisk, Corbin, and perhaps, U. S. Assistant Treasurer Butterfield, played a prominent part in the business, but until the time, when Gould and Fisk were before the Investigating Committee, the plot and especial roles of the several parties were not very clearly defined. Gould was first called before the committee, and endured interrogations for four hours, and Fisk entertained it for two hours in a manner unparalleled. Gould does not say much about his testimony, but in less than three hours after he left the Capitol Fisk had told his story to a room full of reporters. It was subsequently written out from short-handed notes, and is racy reading. The two men are represented the opposites of each other, almost as unlike as two men can possibly be. Gould is said to be quiet in manner and reticent in speech, while Fisk is noisy and pushing and garrulous to the last degree. Gould gave his evidence with caution and precision. Fisk was profane and oratorical and "high falutin." Gould deliberated on every answer he made, and went no further than necessity required. Fisk poured out a torrent of words, and was no more to be checked than Niagara in its flow. Gould gave no extraneous information, but Fisk, in the language of a graphic correspondent, "slopped over." There was business in the room while Gould sat in the witness chair. The two hours of Fisk were broad farce or roaring comedy from end to end. His story is racy to read, but the flavor of his action and gesticulation is wanting. It is reported that he was very anxious to be present during the examination of Gould, but the Committee, of course, did not allow this. "I have never been separated from Gould before," he exclaimed, in high tragic manner, to the committee. When Gould reads the story told by his adjutant there is a chance for an explosion. These two worthies had a theory, or thought they had, and it was that the crops coming from the West (over their line, of course,) ought to go abroad, but would not do so if gold was low. They profess to believe that they acted as public benefactors in throwing up the price, and to this end one or two of the New York journals lent the aid of their editorial columns, publishing articles written by one of the conspirators. They tried every possible way to get the President to commit himself to, or at least act on, their theory. They report scraps of chance conversation with him, and tell what means they used to reach him through friends and relatives. Fisk speaks of Corbin as "an old thief," and photographs his character in a sentence: "When he reaches his hand to the shelf he cleans off everything there is on it." Corbin made them believe, or at least they say he made them believe, that he spoke for the President, but Gould, in reply to a direct question, now answers that he does not know a thing in any way whatever connecting the President or any member of his family with the conspiracy. Fisk's style can be seen in one of his answers. When asked what had become of a certain twenty-five thousand dollars placed to Mrs. Grant's credit, he replied: "It's gone where the woodbine twineth." He was Bombastes Furioso from beginning to end, and the letter-writers say he kept the committee in a fever of suppressed laughter. They began on Gould with a large number of carefully prepared questions. With Fisk they could do nothing but allow him to go on his way and manner till he got through. Gould gave them some information out of which they hope to make points against other members of the ring. Fisk could not speak of poor Speyers as a Dutch Jew or a German Jew, but staggered the committee by calling him "that Saxonian Roman of the coming band." Gould made no pretence, attracted no attention, and, indeed, bore the demeanor of an intelligent gentleman. Fisk is represented as gorgeous with striped pantaloons, brown velvet coat, a square yard of shirt-bosom, half a rod of gold chain, a diamond as large as a walnut, and a necktie of the latest and loudest swell pattern. We need not follow the evidence of these witnesses in their history of the crash that came when the President broke the slate, but Fisk's statement of the connection of Alfred Speyers with the affair is supremely comical:

On Friday morning Mr. Belden brought in one Speyers, and said: "Mr. Fisk, Mr. Speyers will execute any orders for my account you may give him." He then turned to Mr. Speyers and said, "Whenever you have executed these orders, you will report the gold to me." Gold was then about 143, and I told Speyers the quicker he got there the quicker he would get some at that price. Speyers felt that as soon as he could fill Belden's order he would fill his own gut with the same kind of stuff. I told Speyers to go it, and buy all the gold he could. By the time he got there gold had reached 160. Speyers could not see why, when it had gone up from 15 to 20 per cent. in 30 minutes, it should not reach 300, and hence he began to load up at 160, and, judging from all appearances, he got a pretty good cart-load of it.

The next thing I saw was Speyers rushing into the office with his cravat off, and without any shirt collar, and his hair sticking up straight—what little there was left of it. He did not have over ten or fifteen hairs. Said he: "Mine Gott! The whole ting ish played out! I have fifty millions at 160, and it ish now selling at 141. What shall I do?" About that time my own affairs had got a little disorganized, and I was not as much interested in Mr. Speyers' business as I was in my own. I told him, "You darn'd fool you, have you no better sense than to stand there and buy gold at 160 when it was down to 141." Speyers went out of the front door, and before I knew anything of it, he was off again to bid for more gold at 160, although it had gone down to 141; but his voice had given out, and he was so hoarse that no one could understand him.

The rest of the story may be rapidly told. Gould and Fisk got out of a back door, and went off in search of a "cool place." In the evening he had an interview with Corbin, and asked him whether "the whole thing had been a——trick from beginning to end." Corbin virtuously assured him that it had not, and he and Mrs. Corbin posted off to Washington to "fix it," and save what might be saved out of the wreck. The President indignantly refused to receive them on any pretext, and then it became evident that Corbin had sold his relationship to the President at a very high price. He seems to have realized about $125,000, and Gould and Fisk have never seen Corbin since. In this whole business it is a great satisfaction to hear Gould say distinctly that neither the President nor Secretary Boutwell were cognizant of the movements of the "bulls," nor of the relations Mr. Corbin held to them. His testimony exonerated the Government entirely from any dishonorable participation in the gold speculation.

AN ENCOUNTER WITH PRINCE ARTHUR.—Grace Greenwood tells the following good story:

An amusing anecdote of a chance encounter with royalty, is going about just now. While the Prince and party were en route from New York, a Western man got on the train at Baltimore, on the Junction, and by mistake made his way into the special car, where he quietly took a seat. Presently, seeing a nice young man reading a paper, with another lying at his feet, he stepped up to the stranger, and lacking old Jack's loyal instinct, thus accosted the true Prince: "Have you done with this paper, sir?"

A stare of astonishment was the only reply. Again he asks, raising his voice, "Have you done with this paper, sir?" Again the same mute, amazed reply—a steady Guelphic stare. It is highly probably his Highness had never before been addressed after the plain Republican style. At this point the indignant traveler broke forth. "Why——and——!" (words which I really cannot bring myself to write, though I remember to have encountered them in various religious publications,) can't you say yes, or no?"

"Well yes, then," said the Prince, which was good-natured, and sensible, but dreadfully unprincely.

NOT THE RIGHT "SCENTIN" STUFF.—A long, lean, giant Yankee entered a drug store and asked:

"Be you the drugger?"

"Well I suppose so; I sell drugs."

"Well, have you got any of this here scentin' stuff as the girls put on their handkerchiefs?"

"O, yes."

"Well, our Sal is goin' to be married and gin me a ninepence and told me to invest the whole amount in scentin' stuff, so's to make her sweet, if I could find some to suit; so, if you've a mind, I'll just smell 'round."

The Yankee smelled around without being suited, until the druggist got tired of him, and, taking down a bottle of hartshorn, said:

"I've got a scentin's stuff that will suit you. A single drop in your handkerchief will last you for two weeks, and you can't wash it out. But to get the strength of it, you must take a big smell."

"Is that so, Mister? Wal, jest hold on a minute, till I get my breath, and when I say 'now,' you put it under my smeller."

The directions were of course followed, and the Yankee was nearly knocked off his pins; but recovering himself, he exclaimed:

"Chain-litenin'! Mr. Drugger. Is the top ov my head on? Sal don't want any thing like that: it would break up a camp-meetin' in ten minutes. You hain't got the right kind o' stuff."

STOOP A LITTLE.—The following story, related by Dr. Franklin in a letter to Dr. Mather, has been often told, and is well worth telling again:

"The last time I saw your father," says Dr. Franklin, "was in 1724. In taking my leave he showed me a short way out of the house, through a narrow passage, which was crossed by a beam overhead. We were still talking as I withdrew, he accompanying me behind, and I turned toward him, he said hastily: 'Stoop! Stoop!' I did not understand him till I felt my head hit against the beam. He was a man who never missed an occasion of giving instruction, and upon this he said to me, 'You are young and have the world before you. Stoop a little as you go through it, and you will avoid many hard thumps!' This advice, thus beat into my head, has frequently been of use to me; and I often think of it when I see pride mortified and misfortune brought upon a people by carrying their heads high."

AWAY off in the South Pacific there is another group of islands clamorous for annexation to the United States. A Federal vessel arrived at San Francisco from the Fejee Islands brings the news. The Fejee group of islands numbers one hundred and fifty-four, sixty-five of which are inhabited, and they are reported as producing a splendid article of sea island cotton. It is suggested, adopting the San Domingo plea, they would make an approachable commercial and naval station in the South Pacific Ocean, and can be had dirt cheap. In former times the Fejee Islanders were noted for the warmth of the reception they extended to missionaries; it generally assumed a boiling form.

A YOUNG lady named Donaldson, of Somerset township, Washington county, captured an eagle, which the sharpshooters of that secton had long been after. She captured it by placing poison on a carcass upon which it fed. After partaking of the poisoned meat, it flew to an adjacent tree, from which in a short time it fell to the ground and when Miss Donaldson reached the spot she found it dead. It measured over seven feet from tip to tip of wings, and weighed over twelve pounds.

FATAL COAL OIL ACCIDENT.—On Monday a kerosene lamp exploded in the house of Nicholas Bliss, in Buffalo, setting fire to the furniture in the bedroom occupied by the family, consisting of Bliss, his wife and two children. All were burned in a dreadful manner. One child died immediately after the flames were extinguised, and the other is in a critical condition. Bliss and his wife will recover, but will be much disfigured,

A MRS. GROFF, residing east of Berlin, Somerset county, while mixing up buckwheat cakes one day last week, used arsenic instead of soda, and did not discover the mistake until after the eating of the cakes, when the entire family were taken suddenly ill. Medical aid was at once summoned, and, at last accounts, the family were supposed to be out of danger.

BURNED TO DEATH.—On Saturday night a fire was discovered in a house in Virgin alley, Pittsburg, occupied by the family of David M. Adams, and when the neighbors entered they found Mrs. Adams had been drinking, and that she set fire to the house with the avowed purpose of destroying herself.

MORMON TRIBULATION AND SUCCESSES.

A shrewd traveller who writes letters to the London Daily News has visited the Mormons, and gives following interesting information:

"Out of the 150,000 citizens of Utah Territory at least three-fourths have emigrated from Europe. As many as four thousand European Latter Day Saints are said to cross the Atlantic yearly, in order to cast in their lot with their brethren beyond the Rocky Mountains. In no country has the success of the Mormon missionaries been so great as in England, because in no other country has the like liberty been accorded to them. Elsewhere they have fared badly on account of the obstacles put in their way by intolerant mobs, or despotic Governments.

"In their own records of missionary labor are the following entries: "The work of conversion was cut short in France by the Prefect of Police prohibiting the Mormon elders from preaching the gospel or attending meetings." In Germany the mission was continued by Elder Daniel Carn, until expelled by the authorities of the free city of Hamburg. Subsequently, Elders George C. Riser, J. F. Secrist and George Mayer were imprisoned and expelled the Confederation for attempting to preach." An elder was "summarily banished" from Sweden.

"The Prussian authorities acted with their wonted vigor when Mormonism attempted to gain a footing in Berlin. "In January, 1853, Elders Orson Spencer and Jacob Houtz arrived in Berlin, Prussia, but found it was impossible to preach or publish the truth of the Latter Day work in consequence of religious intoloration. These elders wrote to the King's Minister of Public Worship for permission to preach, but were immediately summoned before the Police Court and catechised as to the object of their mission. They were ordered to leave the kingdom next morning under penalty of transportation." The succeeding paragraph, which relates to Gibraltar, stands out in marked contrast to the foregoing. An elder who went there the same year that his brethren proceeded to Prussia had his right to remain on the rock challenged by the Governor, who afterwards recognized it, but forbade the preaching of Mormonism. Elder Stevenson paid no heed to the interdict, 'remained over a year, and baptised several, amidst threats, prohibitions and constant opposition.'

"This illustrates the difference between the governor of a British possession and a Prussian police magistrate. The latter having decided against Mormonism, made his will law to the elders. They had simply to choose between an immediate departure from the kingdom and the penalty of transportation. At Vienna the elders were rebuffed as effectually as at Berlin. Two of them went to the capitol of Austria in 1864. There 'they labored for several months to acquire the German language, but in consequence of religious intolerance they were unable to open the door for the proclamation of the gospel in that country.' In some of the British colonies the missionaries were treated as summarily as in the countries just named. On the whole, the religious toleration which is the glory of England has made that country an open field for their labors. They have founded churches in England, they have published books, pamphlets and newspapers there, have held meetings by the hundred, have made dupes by the thousand. In truth, Salt Lake City resembles an English settlement in America."

A LESSON OF OBEDIENCE.—To obey promptly, to do the very thing that is commanded—how very rarely do children understand the importance of these things.—An illustration of the importance of such obedience has just been given in the Berlin papers, which relate the following incident that lately took place in Prussia: "A switchman was at the junction of two lines of railway, his lever in hand, for a train was signaled. The engine was within a few seconds of reaching the embankment, when the man, on turning his head, perceived his little boy playing on the rails of the line the train was to pass over. With a heroic devotedness to his duty, the unfortunate man adopted a sublime resolution—'Lie down,' he shouted out to the child; but as to himself, he remained at his post. The train passed along on its way, and the lives of one hundred passengers were, perhaps, saved. But the poor child! The father rushed forward, expecting to see only a corpse; but what was his joy on finding that the boy had at once obeyed his order? The next day the king sent for the man and attached to his breast the medal for civil courage."

THE OLDEST RELIC OF HUMANITY.—The oldest relic of humanity extant is the skeleton of one of the early Pharaohs, encased in its original burial robes, and wonderfully perfect considering its age, which was deposited eighteen or twenty months ago in the British Museum, and is justly considered the most valuable of its archæological treasures. The lid of the coffin which contains the royal mummy was inscribed with the name of its occupant, Pharaoh Mikerinus, who succeeded the heir of the builder of the Great Pyramid, about ten centuries before Christ. The monarch whose crumbling bones and leathery integuments are now exciting the wonder-gazers in London, reigned in Egypt before Solomon was born, and only about eleven centuries or so after Mizraim, the grandson of father Noah, and the first of the Pharaohs, had been gathered to his fathers. The tidemark of the deluge would scarcely have been obliterated when this man of the early world lived, moved, and had his being.—N. Y. Medical Record.

ONE of the kings of Spain had been unsuccessful in war, and had lost several provinces; yet he received, notwithstanding, the title of the Great from his courtiers, and, the more unfortunate he grew, was the more rigid in exacting such honors. "Yes, he is Great," said a wit, "just as a ditch is a great. The more earth you take from it, the bigger it becomes."

"NEW, sposin you was to be turned into an animal," said Jim, "what would you like to be Bill?" "Oh, I'd be a lion," replied Bill, "because he's so——" "Oh, no, don't be a lion, Bill, "interrupted Tom, who had some recent painful experience at school, "be a wasp, and then you can sting the schoolmaster."

THE Commissioner of Agriculture intimates that he has no seeds, plants, &c., for miscellaneous distribution, and that he can only forward them to regularly constituted agricultural societies and clubs, and correspondents of the Department.

AT the last U. B. Conference, in Newville, two members—J. P. Bishop, of Mechanicsburg, and J. S. Schaff, of Chambersburg—withdrew from that body, because of their "view in reference to the final destiny of the wicked."

THREE children of John Farley, a canal employee, near Oneida Valley, N. Y., were burned to death by kerosene, which exploded in a can with which they were playing by pouring it on the fire, in the absence of their parents. A babe in the cradle escaped injury.

"Do you think," asked Mrs. Pepper, "that a little temper is a bad thing in a woman?" "Certainly not, ma'am," replied a gallant philosopher; "it is a good thing, and she ought never to lose it."

A YOUNG girl named Margaret Bishop, has been arrested in Pittsburg, on the charge of murdering her father. It is alleged that she gave him poison in a glass of water.

The Star & Sentinel.

Friday, Feb. 11, 1870.

Advertisers and others interested will bear in mind that the regular circulation of the "STAR AND SENTINEL" is much larger than that of any other paper published in the County, being read weekly by not less than 11,000 persons.

THE Ways and Means Committee of Congress are stated to favor a reduction of the income tax to three per cent., and an exemption of salaries of two thousand dollars or less.

HON. T. H. Hoag member of Congress from Ohio, died at Washington, on Saturday, of pneumonia. He was elected a Democrat from the 10th district, beating Hon. J. M. Ashley by 912 majority.

ON our first page will be found an interesting letter from South Carolina, written by Col. A. K. McClure.—Wright, the colored member of the Legislature of whom he speaks, has since been elected a Justice of the Supreme Court of that State, receiving the votes of all the Democratic members! What say our Adams county Democrats to that?

ON Monday the President nominated Hon. Wm. Strong, of Pennsylvania, and Hon. Joseph P. Bradly, of New Jersey, to the vacancies on the Supreme Bench. Judge Strong will be confirmed, but there may be trouble as to Bradley, the same objection applying to him that was urged against Mr. Hoar—that the vacancy should be filled from the South.

THE House of Representatives, week before last, unanimously passed a resolution declaring the claimants from Georgia not entitled to seats in that body—thus affirming the action of Mr. MCPHERSON, the Clerk of the House, who refused to insert their names upon the roll of the House in March last. For this act, he was denounced, in some quarters, very violently, and, as it proves, very ignorantly, since the late action of the House was without dissent on either side.

THE subject of a change in the naturalization laws is being considered by the Judiciary Committees at Washington, to prevent, if possible, the wholesale frauds which for some years have been practiced at elections in New York, Philadelphia, and other places. Among the propositions favored by some members is the appointment of United States inspectors of elections to act with the local officers. Another proposition is that naturalization shall not give the right of suffrage until at least six months after the issue of the papers.

THE argument before the Supreme Court, in the case of Dr. Schœppe, commenced on Tuesday. Dr. Schœppe is represented by Wm. H. Miller, Esq., Judge Hepburn, and H. Northrup. Attorney General Brewster, District Attorney McLaughlin, and W. J. Shearer, Esq., represent the Commonwealth. It is now pretty denfinitely settled that Schœppe is identical with the Berlin criminal, but this will not affect the legal aspect of the case now before the Supreme Court. The only question to be determined is, whether there was legal proof of the crime of murder.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Philadelphia Press, writing from Harrisburg, furnishes the following copy of a letter written by the late Thaddeus Stevens, in which the great Commoner alludes to certain reports affecting his religious belief. Anything relating to Thaddeus Stevens will always have peculiar interest to the people of America, while the evidences of his faith in God and religion cannot fail to be gratifying to those who defend him from the shafts of slander essaying to prove that he lived and died an infidel:

JANUARY 23, 1867.

DEAR SIR: I received your letter. I am not surprised, nor much moved, at any scandal which may be publicly or privately uttered about myself. I do not usually contradict them. To your personal suggestion, however, I willingly reply.

All the statements which you said were made are false, as the author well knew, if he had any knowledge on the subject.

I have always been a firm believer in the Bible. He is a fool who disbelieves the existence of a God, as you say is charged on me. I also believe in the existence of a Hell for the especial benefit of this slanderer.

I have said that I never deny any charges, however gross. I make an exception when my religious belief is brought in question. I make no pretension to piety (the more pity), but I would not be thought an infidel. I was raised a Baptist, and adhere to their belief.

THE COUNTY FINANCES.

In to-day's issue our readers will find the annual Statement of Receipts and Expenditures of the County. We are frank to admit that in some respects it is a more satisfactory exhibit than we have had for some years, being more in detail. Still, there are some portions of it on which more light would be desirable—a consolidation of items, which makes it impossible to say what is covered up under the figures. Take for instances the "Court Expenses," where $6,507 are disposed of in six items thus consolidated. We have $9,006.41 given as "notes and interest paid sundry persons," and so with other items. In view of the enormous expenditures of the County, and the rapidly accumulating debt, there is a general desire to know exactly where the money goes. Besides, there exists a wide spread impression than under the figures presented in these annual statements are concealed items about which it is not desirable the public should know anything. The Commissioners could readily explain everything by a full and detailed exhibit of the items which make up the gross amounts. The concealment of the startling character of the County Debt, until a quarrel among the retainers of the Commissioner's office brought it to light, is not calculated to allay these suspicions.

For the first time we have a statement of the County Debt. The "loans from Bank and sundry persons" is given as $48,990.45, to which should be added $4,359,62, the amount due the County Treasurer on settlement—making a total of $53,350.07. The outstanding taxes amount to $14,566.04, which, however, will be decreased by fees and exonerations.

Another fact is developed by this exhibit. While the entire assessments for last year amounted to $30,879.59, the expenditures, including collectors' fees, exonerations and Treasurer's fees, was $45,892.44—being an excess of $15,012.85.

In the present temper of the public mind, this Account will be closely [illegible]

FROM HARRISBURG.

The House, on Friday, passed the Metropolitan Police Bill as it came from the Senate, by a strict party vote, yeas 57, nays 38. It names five Commissioners, Mayor Fox being one, who are to have the entire control of the Police of the city, their appointment, discharge, salaries, &c. The Philadelphia Republican papers, while advocating the general features of the Bill, object to the persons named as Commissioners, as not being representative men. The present Police system of Philadelphia is worse than a burlesque, being purely partisan and largely made up of shoulder-hitters and bruisers, who figure as repeaters and ballot-box stuffers at elections. To secure an independent, efficient Police in the large cities, where vice abounds and its representatives constitute a power in political action, the Police Commissioners should be men above suspicion—independent themselves—and with a tenure of office not dependent on the will of the mob. Their appointment by the Governor, or better still by the Judiciary, would be an improvement.

The Senate on Friday passed a bill allowing husband and wife to testify in divorce cases. The Senate Committee reported favorably the bill relating to interest—fixing 7 per cent. as the rate of interest, and legalizing 10 per cent. by special contract.

The Finance Committee of the Senate have had State Treasurer Mackey before them during the past week. He stated that when he took possession of the office, on the 1st of May last, about $1,100,000 came into his hands from his predecessor. A portion of this amount he deposited with a number of banks at Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Harrisburg. To the question whether he had received any compensation directly or indirectly for allowing the money of the Commonwealth to remain on deposit in these banks, he declined to answer. He however denied having used the money of the State for speculating or for his own private purposes. The examination will be continued, and Messrs. Irwin, Kemble, Moore and McGrath, ex-State Treasurers, have been summoned to appear before the Committee.

A number of petitions have been presented asking for the passage of a law to submit the question of license or no license to the qualified voters of each township, and that the courts shall be governed in the matter by the decision thus made. A bill with these provisions has been introduced into the House and acted upon favorably in committee.

THE United States Senate on Thursday rejected the nomination of Attorney General Hoar to be an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court by the vote of 24 in favor and 33 against it. The objections to his confirmation partly grew out of the fact that he was nominated to fill a vacancy in a Southern district, although a resident of Massachusetts, and partly out of some legal opinions under the reconstruction act not acceptable to Republican Senators. Mr. Hoar will remain in the Cabinet.

In the House Mr. Butler offered a bill admitting Mississippi to representation upon the same conditions as were imposed upon Virginia, which was adopted—yeas 124, nays 56; a resolution to admit the State without conditions being previously defeated by a vote of 98 to 85. The Senate will no doubt pass the bill, and thus complete the work of restoration so far as concerns Mississippi.

In the Senate, on Monday, Mr. Edmunds, from the Committee on Pensions, reported unfavorably upon the proposition to pay pensions to the surviving soldiers of the war of 1812, stating that it would not be justifible in the present condition of the National finances.

The House bill for taking the census of 1870 was called up, and Mr. Conkling spoke in opposition to it, contending that the census could be most efficiently and cheaply taken under the bill of 1850. Mr. Sumner defended the system proposed in the new bill, and pending the debate the Senate adjourned. On Wednesday the House bill was laid on the table, yeas 46, nays 9. This would indicate that the census will be taken under the old law, by the U. States Marshals.

In the House of Representatives Mr. Marshall's preamble and resolution in favor of free trade and in opposition to a tariff for any other purpose that to pay the debt and provide for the common welfare and defence of the country, were laid on the table by a vote of 90 to 77.

THE Senate Committee have reported favorably on Gen. Sickles' nomination as Minister to Spain.

The House Committee on Elections have reported in favor of Mr. Covode, from the Westmoreland district of this State. Foster was returned as elected, but Covode proved enough fraudulent votes to oust him. The House, on Wednesday, awarded the seat to Mr. Covode, yeas 118 nays 45.

The House will probably remedy the sweeping character of the bill to repeal the Franking Privilege, which recently passed that body, by additional legislation. On Tuesday Mr. Schofield, of this State, offered a bill to except from the operations of the bill the circulation of weekly newspapers within the counties where published; and Mr. Getz, of the Berks district, a bill to allow all newspapers and periodicals published within the United States to be transmitted through the mails free of postage when sent from the office of publication to actual and regular subscribers. Mr. Bingham, of Ohio, also introduced a bill to exempt from postage all exchanges between publishers, and all papers circulating in the State or Territory where published, or within one hundred miles of the place of publication. The House bill to repeal the Franklin Privilege hangs fire in the Senate, and will probably be amended so as to embrace the substance of these propositions.

A resolution passed the House on Tuesday for the payment of the balance of one year's salary for War Secretary to the family of the late Mr. Rawlins.

THE Supreme Court of the United States, on Monday, announced their expected decision in the legal tender cases. Chief Justice Chase read the opinion of the Court to the effect that the statute making Treasury notes a legal-tender for private debts could not be made constitutionally applicable to debts contracted before the passage of the act, or, in other words, that all debts contracted prior to the passage of the Legal-tender act must be paid in gold, and parties could not take advantage of that act to cancel obligations made prior to it in greenbacks. It is also intimated in the opinion that the issuing of legal-tenders was a war necessity, and the war having now terminated, it was the duty of the Government to retire them as fast as possible, and no necessity existed for issuing any more. Justice Miller dissent-

JUDGE TRUMBULL, of Illinois, has prepared a bill which he will press in the Senate, making it a penal offence for members of Congress to recommend persons for office. It is designed to prevent the pressure for office frequently annoying and embarrassing to members, and to prevent the abuses growing out of the present system.—While the law vests the appointing power in the President and Heads of Department, practically it rests with members of Congress, applications being referred to them, who often use the power selfishly, to strengthen themselves at home, and thereby impose on the Government inefficient officers. A number of Senators and members favor Judge Trumbull's bill, but it is not likely to pass. Although the power thus exercised by Congressmen may frequently be abused, it is not likely a majority will be willing to divest themselves of a prerogative which strengthens them with local politicians. Besides, there must very frequently be some responsible party to whom the Departments may refer the rival claims of applicants for office—some one personally acquainted with applicants and their endorsers—and there seems to be a necessity for the use in this way of members of Congress. On the other hand, if a Congressman demands the appointment of an incompetent or objectionable man, the Department, when apprised thereof, should discard the demand.

CUDGEL argument—"the holy text of pike and gun"—was freely used in olden time to decide religious differences. In these "latter days," a resort to it has not been so common. Recently, however, its application, in a somewhat rare form, took place in Louisville, Kentucky. It seems a man named Price was elected deacon of a church contrary to the wishes of his mother. She determined to displace him. Persuasion failing, she repaired to the church on Sunday, and whilst in the performance of his official duties, laid hold of him and administered an effectual cowhiding. The "noise and confusion" that ensued was superlatively intense. The young man next day lodged a complaint against his belligerent maternal parent before a Justice, who held her in the sum of $300 to keep the peace, and to abstain from the exciting pastime of cowhiding for a period of six months. She entered the necessary recognizance, but declares that her perverse son "must leave them parts till he's larned some sense."

AT the recent Editorial Convention at Harrisburg, Mr. Hughes, the colored editor of the "Progress of Liberty," was admitted to full membership. A number of leading Democratic journalists took part in the Convention but made no objection to his admission.

FRED. DOUGLAS and Rev. SELA MANTIN (both colored) have started a new weekly paper at Washington, to be specially devoted to the interests of the colored people. In view of the enfranchisement of the colored race, under the 15th Amendment, the new journal will have commanding influence. Fred Douglas has a national reputation. Rev Mr. Martin is an eloquent preacher and resigns the pastorship of his church in Washington to enter on his editorial duties. It is said that Gen. Grant subscribed $500 to the new enterprise.

HARDLY have the echoes of the late repudiation speeches in Congress died away, before we are greeted, says the Washington Chronicle, with the official announcement from the Treasury Department that the public debt of the United States has decreased in one month nearly $4,000,000, and this is in spite of Democratic assurances that we can never cancel the National obligation. There is potent logic in the events of the past eleven months.—Notwithstanding the carping of the repudiators, the National debt, under the manipulation of our able Secretary of the Treasury, has steadily decreased, and at this moment is nearly one hundred millions less than on the glad day for the country when President Grant assumed the helm of the Ship of State. And this is not all, but merely an item resulting from the change of a corrupt and inefficient Administration, to one full of honest vigor and zealous care for the nation's weal.

THE State Temperance Convention met at Harrisburg on Tuesday. The principal subject of discussion was the advisability of forming a distinct political party. The proposition was defeated by a decided vote.

LOVERS OF JERSEY LIGHTNING.—The Newark Advertiser mentions a new society at Scotch Plains, N. J. The call for the meeting reads: "Whereas, certain evil-disposed persons are introducing innovations on our ancient customs and privileges as free-born Amercan citizens, especially as regards our right to drink when and what we please; Resolved, That we, as lovers of freedom, fun, love and deviltry, do hereby organize ourselves into a society to be known as the 'Young Men's Drinking Association of Scotch Plains, &c., &c." These young men are determined that Jersey lightning shall strike where it has a chance.

THE Winterset (Iowa) Sun says that not long since two brothers named Kelso, living in Pottawattamie county, each married, one the father of three children, and the other of two, concluded that they had made a mistake in selecting their spouses. After a free consultation, and on agreement of all parties, they decided to trade wives. They did so. The proposer of the "trade" moved to Missouri, taking his brother's wife with him, and the other yet remains in Iowa with the other woman.

TEXAS SAVAGES.—A San Antonio paper speaking of the frontier out there says: The country seems to have been turned over to the savages; they ride through small settlements with the air of independence and ease which marks the man who feels himself free from danger. Women and children are carried into a horrid captivity; horses driven off in droves before the eyes of the owner, and beeves and other property appropriated, and in many cases carried beyond the Rio Grande.

ISAAC GREENWALL, an American, was brutally assassinated in the streets of Havana on Sunday morning by a Spaniard. At the same time two of his companions, Henry K. Foster and Hugh Johnson, were wounded. The sole cause for the cowardly murder was in the fact that the men wore blue ribbon at their necks—that being the Cuban color. The wounded men received further indignities and injuries at the hands of the mob. Havana despatches say the criminals will be executed—if the authorities find them.

THE Virginia Legislature met on Tuesday, and Governor Walker submitted his message. He speaks in favor of universal amnesty, impartial suffrage, the building up of the State's material interests, and congratulates the members upon the restoration to the Union. The Democratic members of the Missouri Legislature have concluded to accept the Republican programme for the [illegible]

GENERAL NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO was shaken up by a small earthquake last Friday.

THE New Jersey Senate has rejected the Fifteenth Amendment—13 to 8.

DIRECT telegraphic communication now exists between London and India.

GOVERNOR WASHBURN, of Vermont, died in Woodstock on Tuesday.

GENERAL SIGEL positively declines to accept the Assessorship of one of the New York Districts.

MR. Cumback, of Indiana, recently appointed Minister to Portugal, has, it is said, declined to accept the office.

IN the Iowa Legislature there are twelve soldiers in the Senate and twenty-seven in the House.

A BILL is before Congress to reduce the salary of the members to $3,000 per annum.

HORACE BINNY, Jr., and George M. Wharton, both prominent members of the Philadelphia Bar, died last week.

IN reply to a delegation on Tuesday, the President said he should not interfere with General Terry in Georgia, his conduct so far being entirely satisfactory.

MRS. Admiral Dahlgren, Mrs. General Sherman and a number of other ladies are opposed to female suffrage, and have started a movement in opposition thereto.

A PROCLAMATION announcing the ratification of the treaty with China, negotated by Mr. Burlingame, was issued by the President on Saturday.

BRIGET, wife of Terrence Moley, was burned to death at Sandwich, Mass., on Tuesday, by her clothes taking fire while she was intoxicated. Her husband has been missing since the occurrence.

WHISKY frauds to the extent of two million dollars are alleged to have been committed by A. Stevens, an ex-revenue officer, and a number of business men in New York. Stevens has been arrested.

ON Saturday a butcher of Baltimore, named Louis Est, was arrested for selling unsound meat. He had been retailing meat which a number of butchers declared to be unfit for any purpose whatever.

CLEVELAND denies that any of its citizens sent a dog to Washington as a present to the President. Some scoundrel in Washington took a pup to the White House and tried to raise $10 as express charges, but, happily, miserably failed.

DESPATCHES from Europe announce that there has recently been an increased demand in London for American securities, both Federal and State. M. Paradot, the celebrated author, has been appointed Minister from France to the United States.

A DEMOCRAT in the Kansas House of Representatives, while the fifteenth amendment was under discussion, said: "While I belong to the Democratic party, I also belong to the present age." To prove his words, he voted for the amendment.

THE fashionables of Washington are absorbed in arrangements for crowding the largest posible number of entertainments into the next three weeks, at the end of which period the advent of the Lent season precludes festivities.

THE Postmaster General reports that in the month of January there was sent from the Washington Postoffice over two hundred and thirty-seven thousand franked letters, at the cost of about $15,000, and one hundred and fifty tons of printed matter, at a cost of $33,000.

THE remains of Mr. George Peabody found a final resting place at the town of Peabody, or Danvers, Massachusetts, on Tuesday. Prince Arthur, Admiral Farragut and other notabilities were present, and the funeral oration was delivered by Hon. R. C. Winthrop.

THE proprietors of a distillery at Milford, Ohio, not having enough stock in their pens to drink the slop, turned it into the Miami. Forthwith the sober inhabitants of the beautiful river were seized with a desire to go on one grand "bender." By the time the fluid reached Plainville the whole river presented a scene of the wildest revelry among the fish. Bass, salmon and white perch vied with each other in all kinds of ridiculous gymnastics. They appeared in shoals upon the top of the water, swam to the shore and jumped upon the dry land, and in their drunken spree imitated the performances of a higher order of animals. A wagon load was caught while they were in this tipsy condition and sold in the market.

A BILL, making it a penal offence for a witness to abscond with intent to defeat the ends of justice, has been favorably reported to the State Senate. Legislation in this direction has long been demanded for the highest public good. A witness absenting himself with such intent, practically becomes an accomplice of the accused. It has become fashionable, in many localities, to put the Commonwealth out of Court by bribing witnesses in its behalf to get out of the jurisdiction of the Court.

THE Funding bill reported to the Senate on Thursday by Mr. Sherman from the Committee on Finance, proposes to issue new consolidated bonds, for the redemption of the public debt, the first series of which shall bear interest at five per cent. per annum, and be redeemed at the pleasure of the Government after ten years, but payable in twenty years; the second series at four and a half per cent. to be issued when the first are taken, shall run thirty years; and the third and last series to run forty years at four per cent. The loan is to be limited to $4000,000,000, and, to make an immediate market for the new bonds, all national currency is to be secured by the deposit of them in the Treasury.

IS DECAPITATION IMMEDIATE DEATH?—This question, so often discussed, has been suggested anew by the guillotining of Traupmann in Paris. A French savant, Dr. Pinel, in a letter upon it, takes the ground that the trunk retains life after the head is separated from it for a long period, though it ceases to have any consciousness as soon as it is emptied of blood. The head, he says, on the other hand, both lives and thinks; sometimes one hour, sometimes two, and even three. The brain remains uninjured, and continues its functions until it is benumbed by loss of blood and of the nervous fluid. It sees, hears and smells, and must therefore suffer the most cruel agonies. For this reason he denounces the guillotine as altogether too cruel a punishment even for the most atrocious murderer.

HAYTI must be a pleasant place to live in. Since the establishment of Haytien independence in 1804 there have been nearly a score of revolutions, with a like number of rulers, now called "Presidents" and now called "Emperors," nearly all of whom have come to an untimely end. The first "Emperor" after the overthrow of French power was Dessalines; he was assassinated. Then came the Government of Christophe, who caused himself to be crowned King; he committed suicide. Then came Petion, after a long and sanguinary struggle which crushed out his life. Then came the Presidency of Boyer, who finally perished in exile. Then came the brief and miserable despotisms of Guerier, Pierrot and Riche. Then came the administration, at once monstrous and grotesque, of the "Emperor" Soulouque, who escaped execution only to end his life as an exile. Then came the respectable Presidency of Geffrard, who was then exiled to Jamaica, where he now resides. Then came the semi-savage Presidency of Salnave, who has just been executed. And now comes the fierce Saget, who is quite safe to be executed, or to be exiled, or to commit suicide, within a limited [illegible]

FROM EUROPE.

LONDON, February 7.—The Indo-European Telegraph Company has just completed their line from London direct to India. This line is composed of land wire and cables, and runs via Berlin, Warsaw, Odessa, Teheran, Persia, through the Persian Gulf and Indian Ocean to Bombay, Madras, Calcutta, &c. Messages will be taken from all stations in the United States after the 15th inst.

PARIS, February 7.—The Marseillaise, Rochefort's journal, appears this morning with a characteristic article, over Rochefort's own signature, relative to the recent notice served upon him, ordering him to constitute himself a prisoner in obedience to the sentence of the Court. He declares boldly that he will not surrender himself, and if the Ministry want him they must come and take him, and, furthermore, they must come prepared to use force.

PARIS, February 7.—In the Corps Legislatif to-day Cremieux rose and said he desired to question the Ministers concerning the Rochefort affair. Ollivier replied that he would not await the result of the interpellation, but would do his duty. Cremieux rejoined that it was precisely as to what the Ministers considered their duty that he sought to inquire, and the Chamber would decide that this be answered at once. He then proceeded to make a strong appeal against the arrest of Rochefort as a wrong to his constituents. Ollivier replied, and after an agitated discussion the Chamber by a vote of 119 to 45 adhered to the view of Ollivier.

ROME, February 7.—The Œcumenical Council will soon deliberate on the opportuneness of the discussion of the dogma of Papal infallibility.

PARIS, February 8—Noon.—Rochefort was arrested last night as he was on the point of entering a political meeting in Rue de Flandre, running from Belleville to La Videtté. As soon as the arrest was made known to the crowd the wildest scenes occurred. The meeting broke up in disorder, and the crowd, under the leadership of Flourens, proceeded to barricade the streets. The district lying between Rue Faubourg du Temple and the fortifications at La Videtté, a distance of about two miles, was in possession of the rioters. At 11 o'clock a body of police charged the barricade in Rue de Faubourg du Temple, and attempted to carry it, but was repulsed. One of the Commissaries was dangerously wounded and one policeman killed. At others places barricades had also been erected, but they were not defended. The military are now out in force, but thus far have made no use of their firearms, although the insurgents have. At three o'clock this morning over three hundred persons had been taken into custody and imprisoned in the barracks. Many of them were mere boys, all armed, and most of them under the influence of liquor.

PARIS, February 8—10 P. M.—At noon to day tranquillity had been restored in all the districts where the disturbance arose last night, and up to this hour the city has remained quiet.

PARIS, February 9—3 A. M.—Disorders broke out again at Belleville and in Rue de Faubourg du Temple at midnight. Several additional barricades had been erected in narrow streets. Troops are still in the neighborhood of the scene, but up to this hour have not fired on the rioters. The police are active, and there are rumors of killed and wounded on Boulevard Montmartre, running from Rue Montmartre to Rue Richelieu, the police having made several charges on the position of the rioters there. This point is fully a mile and a half distant from the scene of the disturbances of yesterday.

THE Marseillaise did not appear today. All its editors are under arrest for aiding the rioters. One of the editors of the Rappel was arrested for the same offence.

The Ministers remained at the headquarters of the police all night. The city is now tranquil.

COLORED PEOPLE AND THE SAVINGS INSTITUTIONS.

The Washington New Era publishes a gratifying statement, showing the thrift of the colored people throughout the country. The statement we refer to is taken form the report of the Freedman's National Savings Bank in the city of Washington, and its various branches throughout the country. We learn that the total deposits for the month ending December 31, 1869, reached $737,737.39; total amount of drafts, $633,343,02; net gain for the month, $104,394.37, being a gain over the corresponding month of 1868 of $2,900.96. The investments of the company on the 31st of December included $89.926 in Five-twenties of 1867, $51,632 in Five twenties of 1865, and $1,625.09 of Five-twenties of 1864, $881,562 in currency, with bonds in pledge, cash at branches, cash at First National Bank, in safe at banking house in Charleston, banking house at Beaufort, S. C., banking house at Tallahassee, Fla., and real estate in Washington—amounting in all to $1,555,428.56. The business of the month of January has been nearly equal to that of December, so that the assets of the company are over $1,600,000. "Everywhere," says the report, "we have applications for new branches. A branch has been established at Atlanta, Ga., and deposits for the first two days were about $2,000 by the colored people. A new branch in Philadelphia is progressing rapidly. The business of the new branch in Savannah for the first eighteen days of January showed that one hundred and eight new depositors had been added to the register, being an advance of fifty-eight over last year. The amount of deposits thus far in the month gives an excess of $4,000 over last year. The total amount of 1869 exceeded $85,000. The branch at Norfolk, Virginia, shows the gratifying fact that the greater portion of the depositors are colored people. The total deposits since 1865, when the bank opened, is $524,455. Very great responsibilities are devolved upon the managers of this important institution. They hold in trust not only the money but the character of the freedmen, and everything depends upon their wise and careful administration.

MRS. SUSAN CRAWFORD, of Saugerties, N. Y., has sued Mrs. Christine Russell, of the same place, for services rendered the latter in the matter of a husband. The plaintiff claims that she procured a husband, reputed to be worth $400,000, for the defendant, upon the promise of the latter that, when the knot should be tied, she, the bride, would pay to plaintiff $2,000 in cash; item, a piano; item, in addition, educate plaintiff's child. Defendant got the husband, and basely forgot to make the compensation agreed upon. The defendant in this novel suit is past seventy, and ought to be old enough to pay her debts without going into court. It is a little curious that the contract was in writing, and its fulfillment made to depend upon the death of the husband during the defendant's life. She now pleads the statute of limitations.

THE resignation of Associate Justice Grier of the Supreme Court, which has been accepted by the President, took effect on the 1st instant. Chief Justice Chase and all the Justices of the Court called on Judge Grier, at his residence, last Monday, to bid him "good-bye," on the occasion of his voluntary retirement from the Bench and from public life.

THE Republicans of Maryland are actively organizing in view of the adoption of the Fifteenth Amendment. At Annapolis, on Friday evening, a meeting was held which was attended by over three hundred white [illegible]

NEWS OF NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

CARROLL.—Wm. Wardenfelt, a young man of excellent character, was killed while felling a tree, five miles from Westminster, on the 31st ult. He was caught by the falling tree and so severely injured that he died in five minutes.

CUMBERLAND.—The dwelling of John Fahnestock, Newville, was entered by burglars one night last week and robbed of clothing and money to the amount of $20.—The barn of Peter Spahr, Carlisle, with contents, was burned on the 29th ult., loss $900, with $500 insurance.—Henry Dottarer has been appointed Postmaster at White House, vice E. J. Myers resigned.

FRANKLIN.—J. A. Kline, of Chambersburg, a brakesman on the Cumberland Valley Railroad, last week fell from the train and has his left arm so badly mashed as to render amputation close to the shoulder necessary.—The Commissioners of Franklin county have trouble in getting a Clerk, there being ten aspirants for the place. They balloted all day Tuesday without making a choice.—Two Mormon emissaries, Levi Thornton and Bishop Hess, are operating in the neighborhood of Tomstown, and have made about a dozen converts.

YORK.—John R. Green has been appointed Postmaster at Dallastown, vice A. F. Geisey resigned.

WHILE we have been enjoying weather the like of which in mildness the oldest "inhabitant" can scarcely remember, the Northwest has been suffering unparalleled cold—the temperature at Fort Abercrombie, Minnesota, being on the 16th ult. 45 degrees below zero. And yet the Saint Paul Daily Press designates such weather merely as "one of the coldest days known for several years." On that fearful day travellers on the prairies were frozen to death within half an hour's walk of a place of shelter, sinking in the snow utterly unable to proceed further. Edw. Powers, a discharged soldier, in company with James Downey, started in the morning to go from Twin Lakes to Fort Abercrombie, and, when they were within two miles of the fort, Powers lay down in the snow, and Downey went on to obtain help. He was overcome by the cold just as he arrived at the fort and sank insensible. He remained so for two hours, and then told about his companion. A company of men started out to relieve Powers, but found him frozen to death. Several other instances of the same nature occurred; one man being left by his companion on the night of the 23d, and being found dead in the morning. It can scarcely be doubted that other and more terrible particulars are yet to reach us from the prairies. Perhaps before long weather as rigorous may visit us, although we have so long escaped.

J. J. WHITE, the colored man, just elected Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of South Carolina, was born in Pennsylvania, graduated at the Lancasterian University in New York, studied law for two years at Montrose, Pennsylvania, and was the first colored man admitted to the bar in that State. In 1865 he went South, and was made legal adviser of the South Carolina freedmen. He was a delegate to the Reconstruction Convention, and was afterwards elected to the State Senate.

THE British Parliament convened on Tuesday, and the address of Queen Victoria was read. It speaks of the nation being at peace with all the world, and intimates a reduction of Governmental expenditures. An effort is to be made for a settlement of the Irish land grievances. The bill to coalesce with the United States upon the subject of naturalization of citizens will be presented, but no other reference to relations with this country is made.

THE inauguration of Kit Burns' rat-pit in New York, as the Water Street Mission, took place on Tuesday, Bishop Janes, Rev. Mr. Tyng, Jr., and others, delivered addresses. Burns still runs the liquor saloon next door, through which the ministers are obliged to pass to reach the Mission House.

DEATH OF DR. LIVINGSTONE.—A cable dispatches dated London, Feb. 2, says that a letter has just been received there from Capt. Cochrane of the Royal Navy, commanding the Petrel, stationed on the African coast. He reports that Dr. David Livingstone, the celebrated African traveler, had been burned as a wizard by a chief in the interior of Africa. It is to be hoped that this news, as in the former case, is incorrect.

WHAT EVERY HORSEMAN WANTS:

A GOOD, CHEAP, AND RELIABLE LINIMENT. Such an article is Dr. Tobias' Venetian Horse Liniment. Pint Bottles at One Dollar. For Lameness, Cuts, Galls, Colic, Sprains, &c. warranted better than any other. It is used by all the great horsemen on Long Island courses. It will not cure Ring Bone nor Spavin, as there is no Liniment in existence that will. What it is stated to cure it positively does. No owner of horses will be without it after trying one bottle. One dose revives and often saves the life of an over-heated or driven horse. For Colic and Belly-ache it has never failed. Just as sure as the sun rises, just so sure is this valuable Liniment to be the Horse Embrocation of the day.

Use it one and all. Sold by the Druggists and Store keepers throughout the United States. Depot, 10 Park Place, New York. [Feb. 4, 1870—1m

THIRTY DEADLY POISONS,

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Step by step this commodity has attained its unprecedented fame. They are universally approved.—They support, strengthen, and aid the growth of muscles. They appear to have a peculiar effect upon the nerves, allaying irritability, while supplying warmth. They seem to accumulate electricity, and aid the circulation of the blood through the part where applied, by which healthy actions are induced.

Even in paralysis, where articulation was suspended, the use of the Porous Plasters to the spine restored the articulation, and materially reduced the paralysis In fact, the patient could help herself, while before the Porous Plaster was applied she was as helpless as a baby. We refer to Mrs Sally Elliot, Springfield, Mass.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint, and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the liver, and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens in the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivalled success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe, a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care), that will unlock the gall-bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills, or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord.—No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lung is some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease, and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all bilious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompanying each, make it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless the patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.—He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half-dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists.

Gettysburg, Friday, Feb. 11, 1870.

☞ Letters Patent have been issued by the United States to Messrs. S. W. Yount, P. P. Reister, A. T. Keeports and Wm. Yount, of Littlestown, for a new Curtain Holder.

SALE NOTES.—We have printed a new series of neat Sale Notes, with and without waivers of Exemption—also Judgment notes, with and without wavers.—Furnished in any quantity, and if desired can be bound.

ELECTED.—At a meeting of the Philadelphia Numismatic and Antiquarian Society, held in that city on the 3d inst., Prof. M. L. Stoever, of Gettysburg, was, among others, elected a corresponding member.

NEARLY A FIRE.—On Monday night, about 9 o'clock, the roof of the dwelling of Mrs. Snyder, on Baltimore street, opposite Snyder's hotel, took fire from a stove-pipe passing through the roof. The fire was extinguished by several neighbors, before essential damage was done.

☞ At a recent term of the Dauphin County Court, JOHN MCPHERSON, Esq., nephew of Hon. Edward McPherson, was admitted to the Bar. He is a young man of talent, and his examination is spoken of in flattering terms by the Harrisburg papers.

SALES.—David S. Schaefer sold his farm in Straban township, to Mr. Clover, of Cumberland county—about 100 acres, with improvements, at $6,900.

At the sale of real estate of Abel T. Wright, deceased, late of Bendersville, on the 29th ult., the Store House and lot was bought by Jonas Rouanzahn, at $545.

Mr. Samuel Herbst has sold his new Brick Dwelling on Chambersburg street to Col. F. B. Picking, of East Berlin, taking in exchange the property of Mr. Picking on Baltimore street, now occupied by Mr. Francis Cunningham, and $2800 cash.

RE-OPENED.—The repairs to the Reformed church in this place being completed, the church was opened for regular services on the 30th ult. The whole interior has been renovated, with new carpet, improved heating arrangement, and sundry improvements in the Lecture Room and Infant School Department, all of which will promote the comfort and convenience of the Congregation. Rev. Mr. Deatrich, the Pastor, took advantage of the occasion to read an interesting sketch of the history of the church from its organization to this date.

BARN BURNT.—On the afternoon of the 1st inst., the barn of John Harner, in Mountjoy township, near the Maryland line, was destroyed by fire, with two horses, a calf, about 100 bushels of wheat, and a quantity of rye, oats cloverseed, hay, gears, farming implements, &c. Loss about $2,200. Mr. Harner was from home at the time, and several horses were got out of the barn by his wife. It is said the fire was occasioned by a little son of Mr. Harner, aged 7 years, thoughtless striking a match and firing a straw stack in front of the barn.

INSTALLATION.—On Monday night last, the following persons were installed as officers of "Gen. Reynolds Lodge No. 189, I. O. Good Templars," in this place, for the ensuing term:—J. T. Gladhill, P. W. C. T.; J. A. Koser, W. C. T.; Miss Mary J. McCreary, W. V. T.; D. T. Koser, W. S.; Miss A. C. Powers, W. A. S.; A. W. Fleming, W. T.; W. H. Tipton, W. F. S.; Miss Julia Weygandt, W. C.; T. W. S. Flaharty, W. M.; Miss Sue A. Tipton, W. D. M.; J. Nevin Frey, I. G.; James H. Fleming, O. S.; Miss Carrie Young, W. R. S.; Miss Jennie Powers, W. L. S.

PREMIUMS.—Charles W. Griest, of York Springs district, took seven Premiums at the last State Agricultural Fair, viz:—$20 for the best 5 acres of Corn, yield per acre 87 4-100 bushels; $10 for the best single acre of Corn, yield 89 52-100 bushels; $15 for the best 5 acres of Oats, yield per acre 72½ bushels; $10 for the best acre of Oats, yield 82½ bushels; $20 for the best acre of Potatoes, yield 289 bushels; $10 for the best half acre of Potatoes, yield 170 bushels; and $10 for best half acre of cloverseed.

☞ A copy the "The Homestead Journal," being No. 6 of vol. I, has been laid on our table. It is a neatly printed 12 page octavo, printed in Philadelphia, and issued in the interest of the National Orphans' Homestead at Gettysburg. The number before us contains biographical sketches of the children at the Homestead. The new building at the Homestead is completed, and the institution is free from debt. The contributions to the erection of the buildings and the support of the orphans have come mainly from Sabbath Schools, over 700 schools, in 18 States, being share-holders. From the start in 1866, there has not occurred a single case of protracted sickness, although the orphans number over 100.

SNOW STORM.—On last Tuesday we were visited by the heaviest snow storm of the season. It commenced snowing on Monday night and continued steadily until Tuesday evening. Snow lies now to the depth of about 13 inches, and as we write the merry jingle of the sleigh-bells indicates a good sleighing. The railroad tracks were temporarily blockaded—the mail due at 12½ reaching us at 10 P. M., and the Philadelphia mail due at 6½ P. M. coming to hand next day at noon.

Printers don't usually have time or means to go sleighing. Yesterday our clever friend, Dr. Weaver—who evidently sympathizes with Editors in the exacting demands of office duty—drove up to our sanctum with a fine team and sleigh, and a cordial invitation for a sleigh-ride; but the printer's "devil" was just then most inopportunely calling for more "copy" and as usual we had to forego the ride. Thanks to Dr. Weaver, nevertheless.

A LECTURE.—"Humors of the Pulpit and the Pew," is the subject of a lecture by Rev. E. B. Raffensperger of Toledo, Ohio, (recently of Champersburg.) The press of the different cities and towns in which this lecture has been delivered are unanimous in their commendations. Our citizens may expect a highly entertaining and profitable lecture. The notices of the press represent the lecture as amusing without being trifling, and edifying without being prosy.

At Marion, Ohio, the Rev. gentleman was introduced to the audience as the Ohio Chaplain who during the late unpleasantness offered a premium of a Bible to every army teamster in Kentucky who would drive a mule team four weeks without swearing.

The Philadelphia Inquirer says, after the lecture was delivered there, "so delighted was the audience with the reverend speaker this time that on the next morning a committee waited upon and requested a repetition of the lecture."

The Lecture will be delivered in Agricultural Hall, on Tuesday Evening next, the 15th inst., at 7½ o'clock. The proceeds for the benefit of the Presbyterian church of this place. Admission 35 cents; children under 12 years 20 cents.

☞ Read S. G. Cook's Advertisement and learn where to buy Cooking Stoves, Tin-Ware, &c., at reduced prices. 3m

☞ For Throat Diseases and Affections of the chest, "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or cough lozenges, are of great value. In Coughs, Irritation of the Throat caused by cold, or Unusual Exertion of the vocal organs, in speaking in public, or singing, they produce the most beneficial results. The Troches have proved their efficacy. 1t

COURT DOINGS.—The only additional case tried in Common Pleas last week was the case of the School Directors of Cumberland township vs. Lewis A. Bushman. It grows out of the Bounty difficulties in that township. Mr. Bushman was one of the Committee appointed to fill the quota of the township, and at Harrisburg secured the services of Philadelphia party to put in a number of substitutes at a fixed price, which was done, and he paid over the money. Subsequently it was discovered that five less than the requisite number were put in, some of the papers being forged, and the township lost the credit of the five men. The School Board subsequently brought suit against the parties who received the money, secured judgment, but failing to make the money, concluded to make it out of Bushman. The latter defended on the ground that he acted bona fide as the representative of the School Board, and that the latter had endorsed his action by entering suit against the really guilty parties. The amount in dispute was $2600 and interest. The case was not concluded until Monday evening, when the Jury returned a verdict for the Defendant. This and the case of Mause & Swope vs. Coshun occupied the entire attention of the Court last week, all the other cases going over.

All the applications for License were granted except that of Jacob Stock, Gettysburg, and Tobias Kauffman, Franklin, which, by reason of remonstrances, were held over for the August Court.

☞ Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is no Patent Medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Saharah on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought across the Atlantic Ocean on two ships." It is a simple, mild, soothing, pleasant Remedy—a perfect specific for Chronic Nasal Catarrh, "Cold in the Head," and kindred diseases. R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., offers a reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh that he cannot cure.

For sale by most druggists everywhere. Sent by mail, post paid, for sixty cents. Address the proprietor as above. 1t

CITY FOLKS AND COUNTY FOLKS.—The broad distinction which used to exist between city people and their country friends, seems to be fast passing away.—Our improved modes of communication have brought city and country so near together, that the people have become more and more like one another in almost every respect. Especially is this true in the matter of dress. You can rarely tell a countryman now by the clothes he wears. For so easily can he, either by going or sending, obtain his clothing of Wanamaker & Brown, and at so low prices withal, that he can be as well dressed as though he lived in the city.

CABBAGE SEED.—If you wish to raise the largest and best Cabbage ever grown send your orders for seed to S. Weidner, as advertised in another column. Feb. 4-2t

ATTENTION FARMERS.—Try the celebrated Patent Elastic Rubber lined Collars, Saddles and Pads. Warranted to prevent horses from galling and to heal up under work horses already galled, if properly fitted; and sore necks and backs are kept clean with cold water and Castile Soap, or no pay. For sale by J. W. Cress, manufacturer's Agent, Gettysburg, Pa. Sept. 10-tf

WINTER COMING.—Winter is coming, and COBEAN & CUNINGHAM have made arrangements to meet the wants of the public by their large assortment of all kinds of Ready-made Clothing, for Fall and Winter wear, for Men and Boys—also, Caps, Boots, Shoes, &c., which they are selling very low. tf

BIERBOWER'S SEGARS have become noted for their high flavor, and every body who knows anything about good Tobacco has got in the habit of going direct to his establishment in the northeast corner of the diamond—fully assured that they can get just what they want, the very best Segars, made of prime tobacco, highly-flavored, and what is better still sold at prices that can't be beat in or out of the city. Strangers can't mistake the place. "Punch" always stands at the door, good humoredly inviting the passer-by to enter and enjoy the good things to be found there—Segars, Smoking and Chewing Tobacco of the best brand, Merchaums, Pipes, &c.

CANADA is fairly groaning under a load of silver. Too much hard cash is bringing ruin upon her merchants, upon her farmers, upon her laborers. Silver is at a fearful discount. The shop-keeper who takes in forty or fifty dollars a day cannot deposit it in bank without submitting to a shave of many per cent. Relief is prayed for, and it seems is about to come in the shape of a fractional currency. From our standpoint the Canadian disease is a curiosity, second only to the New York "relapsing fever."

VALUABLE PROPERTY AT PUBLIC SALE

On Wednesday, the 2d day of March next, the undersigned, Executrix of the last will and testament of ELIZABETH F. SHULTZ, deceased, will offer at Public Sale, on the premises, that DESIRABLE PROPERTY, "OAKRIDGE," situate within the borough limits of Gettysburg, on the commanding ridge immediately west of town, where the Fairfield road crosses it.—The property embraces 9 Acres and 132 Perches of Land, about 5 acres in a beautiful grove of white oaks and hickory; and the buildings are a spacious BRICK DWELLING HOUSE, two stories, having 12 apartments, exclusive of large halls; a Brick Kitchen and other outbuildings; a FRAME COTTAGE, with 5 rooms, erected for SCHOOL purposes, for which it is admirably calculated. Also, a Frame Barn, with manure and root cellars, on the premises. Large Vegetable, Fruit and Flower Gardens, and an excellent Orchard, add no little to the value of the property. The fruit embraces every variety that can be grown in this climate, whilst there is hardly an end to the flowers and shrubs. The view from "Oakridge" is very fine in every direction.

This sale should attract the attention of all real estate buyers. The chance to acquire so elegant a property is rare. Such as may wish to view it before the sale are requested to call on the Executrix, residing thereon.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock, P. M., on said day, when attendance will be given and terms made known by CORNELIA A. SHULTZ, Executrix.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

ROSADALIS

THE GREAT AMERICAN HEALTH RESTORER, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine.—The other is a case of scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Becatol, of Lima, Ohio, writes, I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

☞ Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

THE DOLLAR SUN.

CHAS. A. DANA, EDITOR.

The cheapest, smartest, and best New York newspaper. Everybody likes it. Three editions: DAILY, $6; SEMI-WEEKLY, $2; and WEEKLY, $1 a year. ALL THE NEWS at half price. Full reports of markets, agriculture, Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Clubs, and a complete story in every Weekly and Semi-Weekly number. A present of valuable plants and vines to every subscriber; inducements to canvassers unsurpassed. $1,000 Life Insurances, Grand Pianos, Mowing Machines, Parlor Organs, Sewing Machines, &c., among the premiums. Specimens and lists free. Send a Dollar and try it.

I. W. ENGLAND, Publisher Sun, New York.

LORILLARD'S "EUREKA" SMOKING TOBACCO is an excellent article of granulated Virginia; wherever introduced it is universally admired. It is put up in handsome muslin bags, in which orders for Meerschaum Pipes are daily packed.

LORILLARD'S Yacht Club SMOKING TOBACCO is made of the choicest leaf grown; it is anti nervous in its effects, as the Nicotine has been extracted; it leaves no disagreeable taste after smoking; it is very mild, light in color and weight, hence one pound will last as long as 3 of ordinary tobacco. In this brand we also pack orders every day for first quality Meerschaum Pipes. Try it and convince yourselves it is all it claims to be, "THE FINEST OF ALL."

LORILLARD'S CENTURY CHEWING TOBACCO. This brand of Fine Cut chewing tobacco has no equal or superior anywhere. It is without doubt the best chewing tobacco in the country.

LORILLARD'S SNUFFS have now been in general use in the United States over 110 years, and still acknowledged "the best" wherever used.

If your storekeeper does not have these articles for sale, ask him to get them; they are sold by respectable jobbers almost everywhere.

Dr. A. L. SCOVILL, is the inventor of several medical preparations which have become very popular, and have been liberally used. Among his inventions are "Hall's Balsam for the Lungs" and "Liverwort and Tar." For the past six years a better Lung remedy has been offered to the public. Read the following letter from Dr. SCOVILL referring to it:

Messrs J. N. HARRIS & CO.,

Gents:—I make the following statement from a perfect conviction and knowledge of the benefits of ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM in curing the most deep-seated PULMONARY CONSUMPTION:—I have witnessed its effects on the young and on the old, and I truly say that it is by far the best expectorant remedy with which I am acquainted. For Coughs, and all the early stages of Lung complaints, I believe it to be a certain cure, and if every family would keep it by them, ready to administer upon the first appearance of disease about the Lungs, there would be very few cases of fatal consumption. It causes the phlegm and matter to raise, without irritating those delicate organs (the Lungs), and without producing constipation of the Bowels. It also gives strength to the system, stops the night-sweats, and changes all the morbid secretions to a healthy state.

Yours respectfully, A. L. SCOVILL.

VICK'S

Floral Guide for 1870.

THE First Edition of One Hundred and Twenty Thousand Copies of VICK'S ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE OF SEEDS AND FLORAL GUIDE, is published and ready to send out. It is elegantly printed on fine tinted paper, with about 200 fine wood Engravings of Flowers and Vegetables, and a beautiful Colored Plate—consisting of seven varieties of Phlox Drummondii, making a fine

BOUQUET OF PHLOXES.

It is the most beautiful, as well as the most instructive Floral Guide published, giving plain and thorough directions for the [illegible] CULTURE OF FLOWERS AND VEGETABLES.

The Floral Guide is published for the benefit of my customers, to whom it is sent free without application, but will be forwarded to all who apply by mail, for TEN CENTS, which is not half the cost. [illegible]

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM, THE STAR AND SENTINEL.

The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Feb. 11, 1870.

GET LEATHER BITS.—One of the cruelest things done to dumb beasts is putting frozen iron bits into a horse's mouth. It is not only painful but a dangerous act. For every time living flesh touches a metal much below the freezing point, the latter extracts the heat from the former and freezes it. Thus a horse's mouth becomes frozen by the cold iron several times a day put into it; each time causing these freezings to go deeper and deeper, to end at last in extensive ulceration. With such a sore mouth the poor horse refuses to eat and pines away, which calls the horse-doctor in. They call it bots, glanders, horse-ail, &c, and go to cramming down poisonous drugs in big doses; and the next you know of the poor abused creature, he is trundled off to be food for fish or the crows. Many a valuable horse has been 'mysteriously' lost in just this way.

Thinking and humane people avoid this by first warming the bits; but this is much trouble, and sometimes impossible, as in night work like staging and physician's work. Now all this trouble and loss are entirely avoided, as we have found on trial, by getting the harness-makers to get leather bits for winter use, so made that no metal substance can touch the flesh. They are durable and cost only a half a dollar. We wouldn't exchange ours for a gold one, if it couldn't be replaced. Don't fail to try it.

GOOD MILK.—The following rules were unanimously adopted by the Illinois and Wisconsin Dairymen's Association, "to insure the delivery of pure, sweet milk."

1. That no milk is good which is made from filthy, stinking water, of sloughs and frogs pounds.

2. That no milk is good that comes from cows dogged, or driven in hot weather, from the pastures to the stables.

3. That no milk is good that comes from cows pounded or kicked and unkindly treated by brutal men.

4. Milk is not good that comes from diseased cows—cows that have sores filled with pus, or that have udders broken and running with corruption.

COMMON candles are adulterated extensively with extracts and substances injurious to the human system, and in some cases are really poisonous. Terra alba, or white earth, is mixed with the sugar in the manufacture of lozenges. The article irritates the coating of the stomach and bowels. It can be purchased for about a cent a pound. In the manufacture of gum drops, glue is used in lieu of gum arabic, the former costing but a few cents per pound, and the latter about forty cents. Verdigris, Tonka beans, Paris green, chrome yellow, Berlin blue, amiline, and sublimate of mercury are all used, each of which is either a deadly poison, or very injurious to the system. The common method of flavoring candies, in order to produce them economically, can be readily accounted for. Poisons are much more cheap than genuine extracts. Peach flavors in candied almonds and sugar plums are obtained from fusil oil, which is very poisonous. The bitter almond flavor is created from unadulterated prussic acid; pineapple is procured from very rotten cheese and nitric acid. Candies are made, purporting to be flavored with fruit from which no extracts can be obtained.

Two Irishman stopping at the Island House, Toledo, lit their gas, and, with windows open, sat down to enjoy a chat.—The hungriest of the Toledo mosquitoes soon flocked in and drove them desperate. The clerk, who was summoned to devise some defense against them, told them to close the window and put out the gas.—They acted on the suggestion and placed themselves between the sheets. Just as they began to dose, a lightning-bug, which had strayed into the room, caught the eye of one of the travelers. He roused his companion with a punch, "Jamie, Jamie, it's no use! Here's one of the craturs sarchin for us wid a lantern!"

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Naked Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper.—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter Bars and three Knives, cutting five and a half feet in grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

|---|---|
| John Deardorff, Sen., | Henry Culp, |
| Ephraim Lady, | Henry King, |
| George Lady, | Elisha Penrose, |
| Jonathan Wisler, | David Stewart, |
| James Mickley, | W. Ross White, |
| Daniel Settle, | J. J. Kerr, |
| John Bender, | Andrew Weikert, |
| John Eckert, | Wm. Bigham, |
| Wm. Funt, | John Guinn, |
| Cornelius Lott, | John N. Hoffman, |
| Wm. Gulden, | John N. Boyer, |
| Wm. Ross. | |

Also, WIRE TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes. Also, PLOUGHS, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & SONS, Gettysburg Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

WM. WIBLE, Agent.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age,

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain.—It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a Hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also SHIREMAN'S SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rakes ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the IRON DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEBLER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Hamborough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel or at my residence, 3 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.

has been before the public long enough to have been thoroughly tested and its increasing sale and popularity are the best evidences of its superior merit.

AS A RESTORER OF GRAY HAIR to its original color it has no equal.

FOR CURING

HUMORS OF THE SCALP

and preventing itching it is wonderfully successful.

For Preventing the Hair

from falling off it is unfailing.

FOR RESTORING

HAIR TO BALD HEADS

it succeeds beyond Competition, although not always successful. Where the glands or follicles are not destroyed new Hairs is sure to grow after using it properly.

AS A DRESSING

nothing surpasses it. It imparts to dry, faded and wiry Hair that beautiful glossy appearance so much admired.

Containing no oil or grease it does not soil the finest linen.

It is compounded upon Scientific principles of the purest ingredients and is entirely harmless.

Being perfumed with the most fragrant Extracts its odor is delightful.
